the kitchen a bit of a glut

Cucumbers are plentiful at this time of year and my mother in law reminded me of a good old recipe.

Cucumbers in Vinegar

- Peel or not the cucumber and slice thinly, a mandolin helps.
- Fill a small bowl with vinegar and a teaspoon of sugar.
- Experiment white wine, cider or malt vinegar and brown or white sugar.
- Place sliced cucumber in vinegar, You can add onion and herbs and season or just keep it simple.
- This keeps for ages and goes well in sandwiches, with hot and cold meat and with curry.

the garden

Sow some green manure now if your beds are bare. Green manure will protect bare soil and add organic matter.
